Tobin Talks On Turkey Friday A.M.

"Turkey Talks Turkey", is the title of a timely lecture to be given by Chester M. Tobin at the assembly on Friday, August 11, at 11 a.m. Morning classes will be on shortened schedule.

Mr. Tobin, although still a young man, has had long experience with Turkish affairs. He has spent over 12 years in the Near and Far East. He coached the first Turkish athletes ever to compete in the Olympic games, taking them to Paris to participate in the Olympics of 1924.

He persevered in the study of the Turkish language until he was able to read, write, and speak it when it still was written in Arabic characters. He prepared the English texts for translation into Turkish of the first books on American sports.

Mr. Tobin has just completed a book on Turkey, entitled "Turkey—Key To The East", which has been published by Putman's Sons of New York.

V-12's Get First Glimpse Of Enemy

The Bee Gee V-12s got their first glimpse of the "supermen" as the German war prisoners arrived in Bowling Green to start work on the temporary camp across from the airport.

Five Men; Co-ed Are Finalists In '44 Contest

Five men and one coed will compete at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the Radio Studio for top honors in the first of the 1944 contests in extempore-discussion. The general topic will be "What Should Be Done With Germany After the War?"

Stanley Rose, Robert W. Bohl, Hal Potts, John B. Dempsey, and Nelson Williams, Jr., are the five men who survived the preliminary round last week. Aurelia Christea was the only woman qualifier. Sixteen competed in the preliminaries.

The program tomorrow evening will be in three parts. In the first part, each contestant will give a five-minute speech upon a particular phase of the general topic, giving information about post-war Germany and possible solutions.

In the second part, with Dr. S. H. Lowrie, chairman of the department of sociology, presiding, the six will discuss the topic as a group, and finally the question will be open for audience participation.

The extempore-discussion series of 1944 is a continuation of programs of last year sponsored by the department of speech, and directed by Dr. Wayne Thompson of the speech faculty. "The discussion contests were originated because of the belief that the intelligent consideration of problems of our age represents one of the most valid goals of college education," Dr. Thompson said.

The contests are open to the public.

Housing Plans Completed

— River Lab Overlooks Maumee —

The University river biological station, shown above, is housed in a former shelter house at Grand Rapids overlooking the Maumee River just above the dam there.

Dr. E. E. Dickerman of the biology staff is supervisor of the station, and is conducting research on marine parasites.

Equipment includes a boat used in collecting specimens.

V-12 Men To Remain Quartered in Kohl

All rooms in the women's dormitories for the fall have been filled and contrary to rumors, there will be no change of living quarters for V-12 men on campus, Dr. Frank J. Prout announced this week.

Since the departure of the V-5 cadets here and the vacating of Williams Hall, rumors have been prevalent that "S.S. Kohl Hall" would be occupied by upperclass women and its sailors and marines moved to Williams Hall. This plan would then leave Shatzel Hall, top floor of Johnston Hall, Women's Building, and the sorority houses for the women students as last year.

The plan has been abandoned, however, and the servicemen will continue to occupy Kohl Hall. Freshmen women will live in Shatzel Hall, Women's Building, and Johnston Hall. The upperclass women will be housed in Williams Hall and the smaller dormitories along sorority row. Dean-approved rooms also will be used to house University students if they desire to live off the campus.

Enrollment Increase Seen

This fall an increase in civilian enrollment over last year's is already in evidence. According to Dean A. B. Conklin, dormitories on campus are now filled to capacity by pre-registered students. However, there are still rooms available off campus.

Total dormitory registrations for fall freshmen women on campus is 273. Total reservations for fall upperclass women on campus is 362. These are distributed among the dormitories as follows: Shatzel Hall, 189; Women's Building, 72; Johnston Hall, 12; Williams Hall, 178; Alpha Chi Omega, 20; Alpha Phi, 24; Alpha Xi Delta, 57; Delta Gamma, 59; Gamma Phi Beta, 24.

Three Assigned To Room

To alleviate the shortage of rooms, there will be three occupants to a room in the larger dormitories.

Mrs. Josephine James will return to Williams Hall as house director. She has been in charge of girls at the Women's Building during the year Williams Hall has housed navy men. A director to replace her at the Women's Building has not been appointed.

Crossman Will Take Art Head Position Grace Wills Left

Miss Catherine Crossman, who has been visiting art instructor at Bowling Green this summer, has accepted the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Grace Wills.

Miss Crossman received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Carleton College in Northfield, Minn. in 1926, and the Master of Arts from the University of Oregon in 1936. She has studied at the Armour Institute of Technology and at Harvard University.

Miss Crossman has taught art in high school in Boise, Ida., Huron, S. D., and Rochester, Minn. She also taught art in Boise Junior College and for six years was on the faculty of State Teachers College in Winona, Minn.

Dr. and Mrs. Hissong To Attend Annual School for Executives

Clyde Hissong, Dean of the College of Education, and his wife will attend the second annual School for Executives of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, Dr. Prout announced today.

The school will be held at Jackson Mills, West Va., and will meet from August 15 to 24 inclusive.

"We are glad that we can have a representative at this national school whose members include some high executives and educators in the country," Dr. Prout said. There are only eight other colleges in Ohio who have accredited membership in the association.

The registration for the school now includes 137 college presidents, 215 deans and other state department officials.

The program includes various classes during the day dealing with administrative and organization plans. In addition there are classes with problems in enlarging curricula and concerning community relations.

There are also meetings scheduled for the evenings in which problems of war and post war education will be discussed. Of special interest here is the discussion of the credit that the military personnel will be able to transfer to other colleges after the war. Other problems involving the post war expansion of buildings and financial support will be dealt with.

$4,000 Contract Let For Repair of B.G. Power Plant

A new center column for the University power plant, planned to be installed this week, has been contracted for, at about $4,000, Mr. R. M. Ronk, maintenance engineer, announced recently.

The present "H" column, supporting six tons, has burned out from its 17 years of service, and is being replaced to save a more expensive job later.

It is the most important of 12, on which rest the two 329 h.p. stoker-fired boilers that serve all the buildings on campus.

Only whatever is necessary of the 29 feet of the 10-inch, hot-rolled steel column is to be replaced.

J. A. Young of Toledo, has been given the contract for the repairs. They recently did a similar job at the State Hospital in Lima.

Dean Wilder Dons Denim Slacks; Operates Jig-borer In Detroit

Amphitheatre Shows Crosby Film Aug. 12

The Paramount production, "Mississippi", taken from the play by Booth Tarkington, will be shown in the Amphitheatre at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, August 12. This romantic comedy of riverboat life, is the first out-door movie to be shown on Bowling Green campus.

The cast stars such personalities as Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, Joan Bennett, and Gail Patrick.

"One of Bing's best," said Prof. Elden T. Smith.

Bing's portrayal of "Tom Grayson" as the spurned lover of "Elvira Rumford" (Gail Patrick) is excellent. Elvira's sister, "Lucy," played by Joan Bennett, loves Tom but refuses his proposal because of a scandal in which Tom is said to have killed her cousin.

Everyone looks on with delight as Tom Grayson turns fighter and convinces Lucy that the stories were imaginary.

Audrey Kenyon Wilder, dean of women at Bowling Green for three years, can operate a jig-borer with the best of them. Wearing denim grease-covered slacks, Dean Wilder is learning about plant operation from time-clock to lathe and about retailing from stock-room to selling, in the Dodge division of the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit.

The idea of this school for teachers and school executives originated with the Detroit Board of Education guidance and placement office officials who realized that few of the teachers and school counselors selected to help pupils to decide on a vocation had ever worked on an assembly line or behind a store counter—the two major employment fields.

Eight hours weekly is devoted to classwork, but the plants or stores where the student-teachers are assigned pay them for a regular work week. This plan was started last year with the Dodge Division as the only participating plant, but was so successful that the Ford Motor Company and 16

Let's Grow Up

There has been a lot of criticism voiced recently by the professors and the more sober students about the uncalled for noise in the classrooms.

This is a University not a high school, a fact too often overlooked by the students. The students are now somewhat handicapped because of the lack of orientation which is usually given freshmen by the upperclassmen in the traditions and atmosphere of college life. But with a little sensible control we can give our classrooms the atmosphere that a college classroom deserves.

SELECTIVE SERVICE FACTS

Selective Service Director, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, in a recent address pointed out that we have rejected more men in this war than we accepted in the last war. He made a point of the importance of conditioning and training youth for the future good of the country and for the defense of it in any future conflict.

In citing figures for the draft he said that almost 10 million men have been mobilized in the last 30 months—an average of more than 300,000 each month, or about 1,000 men per hour, 10 hours per day, 30 days per month, since Pearl Harbor. And this does not include the millions whom the local boards have registered and classified and have been rejected for service.

"We thought World War I a fair-sized struggle," said Director Hershey, "but we have mobilized three times the numbers we had then. More of our men are overseas today than we had altogether in the armed forces at our peak in World War I."

FROM COW PASTURE

From a cow pasture in France, Pfc. Forest Weller, x'44, attached to a Special Motion Picture Unit, writes that he is in a fox hole with rain pouring down and hoping that the canvas over it will keep the hole from filling up.

In recent news reels that have been shown uptown in the B.G. theater was a scene showing Gen. Eisenhower and Bradley firing the first shot from a big gun that opened our big 4th of July artillery barrage against the enemy which Pfc. Weller helped film. He also got into Cherbourg and filmed the ceremony of turning the city back to the French and on D-day they took pictures of the 1st wounded arriving in the southern ports of England.

PAYS A VISIT

Sgt. Robert Habenstein, '40, was on the campus while enroute to his home in Cleveland to visit his wife and month-old baby daughter. He returned from the Hawaiian theater several months ago and is now stationed at Camp Roberts, California.

PLAYS IN BAND

Pvt. Norman G. Scott, x'45, is playing a trumpet in a swing band that is being organized at an Evacuation Hospital of an advanced base service command on Bougainville. The band will soon make tours of other camp areas through bookings by the special service division of the army. He is entitled to wear one battle star on his Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon.

STARS IN SERVICE

at the cla-zel

Featured at the Cla-Zel theatre this week is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's surprise film of the year "Going My Way". It brings with it a cast of outstanding Hollywood personalities and presents a truly thrilling story filled with human warmth and pathos.

Bing Crosby and Rise Stevens are starred together, and Bing plays a new role for movie audiences. He is a young priest who comes to replace an older man, and throughout the movie one senses the changes and the new ideas that he brings to the parish with him. There is not one minute in which the audience is not laughing or crying. The picture seems truly typical of American living.

Highlights of the film are the songs sung by Bing and the group of ruffians and street-children that he has taken an interest in. The beautiful melody of "Ave Maria" and "Silent Night" sung by the young voices are moments of inspiration in the movie.

The human attitudes, and human interests, the material problems, and the finer quality of living that come with the picture, truly give it the meritorious name of surprise film of the year.

Everywhere movie audiences are acclaiming "Going My Way" as a top-ranking human film. It expresses so well the change of ideas, and the understanding of human needs and struggles.

"Ah, I've missed you!" she cried. Then she raised her revolver and fired again.

He: "Even if I tell you I love you more than anybody in the world?"

She: "Positively not!"

He: "Aw, but mother, all the other freshmen stay out after nine."

CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION

Kay McDermott and Al DiMarco celebrated birthdays together . . . a fine excuse for a celebration and twice as good when there are two. Eighteen B. G. coeds overran one of the dining rooms at the Women's Club Sunday. It started out as a nice little group of four.

After Rose got through with a line of double talk to explain a chemistry problem, Dr. Weber said, "I have just one more question. Do you really think you'll pass this course?"

SUMMER LOUNGE

The plot behind the hospital has become quite a popular lounge. The main guests are the hospital inmates who can get around, Dutton, and Mr. Keck. The rest of the people come after dark. Music is free. Speaking of music, Friday night while the band was playing on the Ad building steps and the juke box was going in the Nest some worny V-12 had his portable vic and was happily playing records on the porch of the Nest.

Falcons Keep In Stride Bringing Fourth Victory

With excellent pitching by right-hander Al DiMarco and left-hander Bill Hoffeld, the Falcon baseball team tucked three more games under its belt at the expense of Auto Lite, Zedlitz Meats, and Red Cabs of the Toledo Federation.

In beating the Auto Lites, Hoffeld, a freshman, let down the opposition with four hits while his mates were making fourteen in winning 9-3. Leo Kubiak led the Falcons with three hits, including a home run, in five times at bat. Ed Conley also hit a home run.

Al DiMarco was called on to pitch against Zedlitz and he won his second game of the summer season 3-1. He pitched four-hit ball as did his rival Snyder, but Bowling Green turned two hits in the first inning into two runs and they added another in the seventh.

Zedlitz scored their one lone tally in the sixth. Two lusty triples by Bloomfield and Jeremiah were the ruination of the Meats.

The Bee Gee boys belted out nine hits good for nine runs and won their fourth game of the season by virtue of a 9-3 win over the Red Cabs. The game was called at the end of the eighth because of darkness.

Bob Blatner, on the hill for Bowling Green, let the Cabs down with five hits. Jeremiah was the batting star of the game with a single, double, and triple in five times up. Martin and Whitehead hit homers for the locals.

Enrolled through the co-operating colleges, the students pay the regular tuition fees to the college with which they are registered and receive college credit on completing the eight-week program.

The teacher students assigned to each factory get the whole picture of production, rotating at as many as 20 different machines. During two-hour classroom periods four days a week they learn the problems and workings of industry

Dawn Field Trips Highlight Class

Widely varied field trips are highlights in the dawn biology class.

Each Saturday the class meets at 6 a.m., travels to its destination, studies for awhile, eats a picnic breakfast of perhaps bacon and eggs, etc., and then spends the rest of the forenoon studying. The class also meets at 6:30 a.m. three other days of the week for regular study.

The study is strictly ornithological and according to Dr. Steidtmann, professor of biology, this time of day lends itself best to the study of birds. Birds are more active, feeding and singing and bustling about their activities at this early hour than any other time during the day, Dr. Steidtmann stated.

Dr. Steidtmann is satisfied if 25-40 species can be observed on one field trip, but this territory is rather limited and hence the field trips branch out a bit. Northern Michigan, according to Dr. Steidtmann, is an excellent territory for this study and as many as 100 species can be observed in one field trip.

Trips have been made to Oak Openings near Whitehouse, Sidecut Park near Maumee, River Lab near Grand Rapids, and one is being planned for Lake Erie to study shore birds.

There are 10 members in this ornithology class and no "cuts" have occurred yet. The early hour was the suggestion of the class and, according to Dr. Steidtmann, the suggestion has been "very timely and worth while." He also stated that this study adapts itself well as a hobby.

The course has only been offered here once before, Prof. Steidtmann believes, but due to many requests it is being given this summer.

from top executives of the plants and educators from the cooperating universities. Subjects discussed include wage and hour laws, guidance problems, psychology and the like.

Coming from 10 states, the majority of the teachers in the work-study program gave the same reasons for taking the course as Miss Wilder, who said:

"I feel that it is important with so many changes coming in industry and other fields, for educators to keep in touch with the new point of view. If we teachers don't keep up with the times, we aren't going to know what it is all about."

Miss Wilder's picture, taken at a machine in the plant, was featured by Detroit papers.

Do You Know About

LT. RUSSELL FERGUSON

By Doris Dean

Lt. Russell Ferguson, executive officer of the V-12 unit since its beginning here in July 1943, administers the regulations and coordinates the program of the unit.

Before his enlistment in the navy in April 1943, Lt. Ferguson was for 18 years a professor of history at the University of Pittsburgh. He attended Indiana University and Chicago University from which he received his Ph.D. in 1928.

During his college days and during his career in World War I he was an active athlete, playing outfield on the baseball team and the positions of guard and tackle on the football team. He is still a spirited sports fan.

Lt. Ferguson served 9 months sea duty during the last war and now has a son in the navy, stationed in California.

Lt. Ferguson was born in Elwood, Indiana, which he says is so much like Bowling Green that he feels as though this town was also "home" to him. He is married and the father of three children.

As a diversion from the line of duty he takes special interest in golf and flowers.

B. G. Nine Beats Camp Perry 4-1

Bowling Green State University made it five straight Monday night by handing the soldiers from Camp Perry a 4-1 defeat, behind the four-hit pitching of Al DiMarco.

The Falcons broke the ice in the third inning on singles by Boice, Bloomfield, and Kubiak; an error and two infield outs.

The final Bee Gee score came in the sixth inning on a single by Whitehead and an error by Camp Perry.

DiMarco struck out nine men while Ligon whiffed six.

A dance with the Navine band playing and an out-door movie are scheduled for this weekend.

The Navine band will play for a dance in the Rec Hall on Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Admission will be by "Ac" cards, and the dance will be very informal.

The movie, "Mississippi", starring Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, and Joan Bennett will be shown in the Amphitheatre on Saturday night at 9:30. This picture is brought here by the social committee in cooperation with Prof. El-den T. Smith, speech department head. Don't forget your Ac card.

New records, purchased recently by the social committee, will be used in the near future.

Social Committee Buys 16 New Records

Sixteen new records were purchased last Friday by the social committee. The numbers selected were taken from a list of suggested records submitted by residents of Kohl Hall and sorority houses. As a result, the student body will be hearing favorites at future nickelodeans.

Some of the pieces are: "Moonlight Serenade" by Glenn Miller; "You're the Dream, and I'm the Dreamer," as recorded by Andy Russell; also Andy Russell's "Besame Mucho"; and "Amor", by Wayne King.

Other favorites are "Lili Marlene" and "1st Class Pvt. Mary Brown" as sung by Perry Como, baritone; Claude Thornhill's interpretation of "Moonlight Bay"; and "There's a Small Hotel"; "Pretty Kitty Blue Eyes" by the Merry-macs; Erskin Hawkins' "Don't Cry Baby"; and Helen Forrest singing "Time Waits for No One" and "In a Moment of Madness".

Gottfried Explains WSGA To Freshmen

Norma Leatherman and Shirley Diller were guests of Mary Kelly and Sara Troutman last week.

Ardine Gottfried explained the purpose of the WSGA at an informal meeting of Freshmen women Monday night. Refreshments and singing rounded out the evening.

Peg Maddock won first prize in a costume contest at the Alpha Chi party Thursday night.

The Five Brothers Fraternity has pledged the following men: Brenton Kirk, Charles La Reau, Louis Major, Donald Fitzgerald, James Daum, and Gene Kruger, all marine privates, and able seamen Robert Wall, William McClain, Andrew Rehbein, John Kinzel, and Warren Kircher.

Jim Violand, fraternity president, leaves next week to attend Sigma Alpha Epsilon leadership school at Evanston, Illinois.

Dean A. B. Conklin visited the brothers at their weekly meeting Monday night.

Brother Don Harris, a graduate of Northwestern Midshipman's School, was a recent visitor at the house.

Miss Wills Visits Here Before Going To Chicago

Miss Grace D. Wills, former head of the art department, is staying at her former home in Bowling Green prior to her departure for Chicago. Her resignation was announced last week.

Miss Wills came to Bowling Green in September, 1930, from Muncie, Ind., where she taught at the Ball State Teacher's College. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the Art Institute of Chicago and Ph. B. and A. M. degrees from the University of Chicago.

While here Miss Wills was responsible for expansion of the art department and originated courses which gained the approval of the State Board for students to minor in art. She also helped to organize a four-year course in elementary education.

She was a member of the University advisory council, the American Association of University Women, the American Association of University Professors, the Faculty Women's Club, and was active on the University social committee for a number of years.

Miss Wills joined the Las Amigas sorority as a faculty adviser a year after their organization in 1929. When the sorority became affiliated with the Alpha Chi Omega sorority this spring she was initiated at the time of the installation.

Because of recent deaths in her family, Miss Wills wishes to return to her home in Chicago, where she will reside with a cousin. Her plans for the future are not definite, although she may enter business.

Miss Catherine Crossman, who has been teaching here this summer will fill the vacancy created by Miss Wills' resignation.

Even Movie Stars Are Cut From V-12

Jackie Cooper, former movie actor, has been dropped from the V-12 program at Notre Dame, Ind.

It seems that Jackie and a fellow V-12 were entertaining 'teen age girls in their hotel room far into the night.

Jackie will be remembered for his model role in "Where Are Your Children" which ran at the Cla-Zel a few months ago.
